Upon arrival at Madurai Airport, you shall be picked up in your exclusive vehicle & you shall proceed to visit Meenakshi Temple. Madurai is one of the oldest continuously inhabited cities in India. Situated on the banks of Vaigai River in Tamil Nadu, the city is known for its 'Meenakshi Sundareswarar Temple'. Madurai Meenakshi Temple occupies a huge area in the heart of Madurai as it spreads over 14 acres. The temple is enclosed with huge walls, which were built in response to the invasions. The numerous pillars are such a visual treat to the eyes that one can only 'gaze in awe' towards the absolute structural masterpiece that simply cannot be found anywhere else in the world. Later, proceed towards Rameshwaram. Overnight in Rameshwaram.

Day 2: Dhanushkodi & Ramanathaswamy Temple.

You are in the temple town of Rameswaram. Rameswaram is known for Ramanathaswamy Temple, a Hindu pilgrimage site with ornate corridors, huge sculpted pillars and sacred water tanks. Devotees bathe in the waters of Agni Theertham, off the beach east of the temple. Gandamadana Parvatham is a hill with island views. Today after breakfast, visit the famous temple of Rameswaram, 'Ramanathaswamy Temple' dedicated to the Hindu God 'Lord Shiva' and a Master Piece in Dravidian Architecture. Later, take a jeep ride to 'Dhanushkodi' the southernmost tip of South India. Dhanushkodi is an abandoned town at the south-eastern tip of Pamban Island of the state of Tamil Nadu. The town was destroyed during the 1964 Rameswaram cyclone and remains uninhabited in the aftermath. The area around Rameswaram is prone to high-intensity geomorphic activity. A scientific study conducted by the Geological Survey of India indicated that the southern part of Dhanushkodi facing the Gulf of Mannar sank by almost 5 metres (16 ft) in 1948 and 1949, due to vertical tectonic movement of land parallel to the coastline. The formation of a depression on 17th December 1964 intensified into a cyclonic storm, made landfall on 22nd-23rd December, with a wind velocity of 280Km per hour. An estimated 1,800 people died in the cyclonic storm on 22 December including 115 passengers on board the Pamban-Dhanushkodi passenger train. This is the most unique destination, as it is covered by water on either sides - The Indian Ocean and The Bay of Bengal. Overnight in Rameswaram.
